CAMPAIGNING

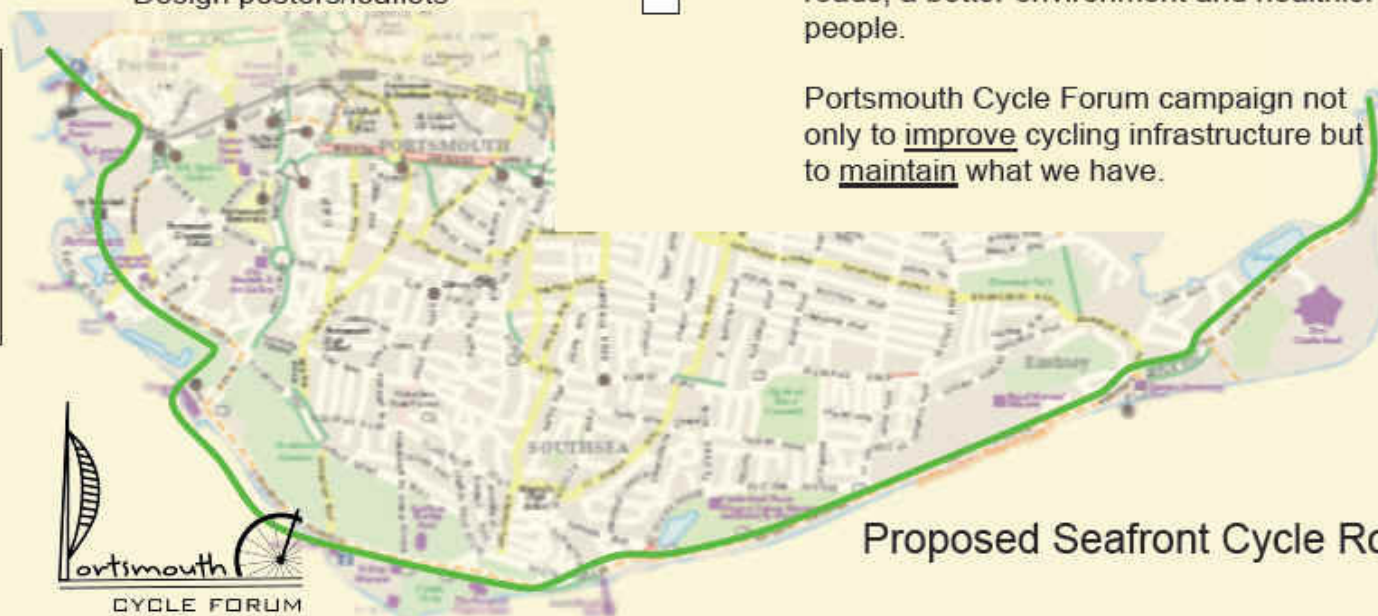

You have a democratically elected city council, but they need to know what you think! Without the Cycle Forum, cyclists would probably be ignored.

We're not against cars - most of us drive - but this city suffers from heavy traffic congestion, too many parked cars, and has a poor health record.

More cycling should be seen as an benefit to all road users and the city as a whole.

More cycling means fewer car journeys and more people cycling means fewer cars. Overall, this will result in less congestion, less pollution, quieter, safer roads, a better environment and healthier people.

Portsmouth Cycle Forum campaign not only to improve cycling infrastructure but to maintain what we have.
